REDWOOD NATIONAL AND STATE PARKS

Salmon Spawning Adventures November thru January

Redwood National and State Parks, Save-the-Redwoods League and North Coast Redwood Interpretive Association are offering free, guided trips to view the annual fall migration and spectacle of spawning salmon. These spawning trips are scheduled each weekend;
(water/fish conditions permitting)

November thru January in the Mill Creek Watershed, Del Norte Coast Redwoods State Park, and Prairie Creek Redwoods State Park. Morning trips will start at 9:00AM and run through noon. Afternoon tours will run from 1:00PM to 4:00PM.

During the Mill Creek Watershed trips, participants carpool in their personal vehicles on gravel roads to select viewing locations. Visitors view salmon spawning in the Mill Creek Watershed, a tributary of the Smith River, that is regarded as one of California's most ecologically significant areas and a top productive stream for Coho Salmon. During the Prairie Creek trips, participants will drive to various locations, park and hike among old-growth redwood to prime viewing spots.

For both areas, walking short distances over uneven ground may be required. Wet weather gear and sturdy hiking shoes are recommended and polarized glasses are suggested for best viewing of fish. Tours will go rain or shine whenever water/fish conditions allow.

Participation is limited and pre-registration is required.
This program is FREE !
